ANARCHY REIGNS.

Meetings Held in Memory of the "Chicago Martyrs"

BOTH SIDES OF THE ATLANTIC.

Incendiary Speeches Made to Motley

Crowds by Leading Anarchists in New York and Chicago—A Big Demonstration of the Same Nature Takes Place in London.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Dirges played by the Musical Progressive union and choruses sung in minor keys by the International Workingmen's Musical union were the chief accompaniments last night to the speeches of John Most, J. H. Edelman and Henry Weissmann at Cooper Union, where 3,500 people assembled in an anniversary mass-meeting held to commemorate the execution of Parsons, Spies, Engel and Fisher at Chicago in November, 1887.

The hall was draped from end to end with the lurid color of the anarchists, relieved here and there by portraits of the "martyrs of Chicago," while underneath were quotations from their speeches. The crowd, though motley, was orderly. A striking feature was the number of women who paid ten cents admission fee charged by the committee of arrangements. Among these sat Emma Goldman, who became notorious through her connection with Berkman, who attempted to assassinate H. C. Frick. Joseph Barondess was also present.

Ira Ulman acted as master of ceremonies of the evening, and in introducing the first speaker, said they had gathered to honor the memory of five men who were murdered because they refused to prostitute their brains. This remark was received with applause, which was redoubled when J. H. Edelman began the oratory of the evening in the English language. Mr. Edelman traversed the well worn ground of tyrant capitalists, a subsidized press and the sufferings of the wage earner. He was tolerant in his language, however.

Henry Weisman, of The Bakers' Journal, made the second speech of the evening. He also spoke in English, and gave a brief historical sketch of the circumstances which led up to the judicial killing of Chicago anarchists, and after extolling Berkman's act said that the attempt on H. C. Frick's life was a demonstration that, despite the miserable economic conditions, ought to tear out of the workingmen's hearts all thoughts of idealism that is planted in them by nature.

John Most was the last speaker, and his speech being made in German roused the audience at times to a high pitch of enthusiasm. He read from manuscript and was evidently careful not to trust himself to extemporaneous flights, the remembrance of his recent sojourn on Blackwell's Island checking the fervency of his utterances. He said in part: "We do not know whether the remembrance of Nov. 11 will some day become sufficiently strong to put in the hands of every one capable of hating the present system of society the gun, the bomb or the torch; but one thing we are sure of, that if some day the long suffering proletarians will descend in streets and square accounts with their oppressors, the history of Nov. 11 will help in a large measure to stir up the faint hearts."

The singing of the "Marseillais" by the chorus and many of the audiences brought the anniversary meeting to an enthusiastic but uneventful close.

Anarchists in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Anarchy may not be dead in Chicago, but if the meeting at Rochester hall last night is any criterion, it is in the last stages of decline. About 200 men and boys, with a fair sprinkling of women, gathered in the hall to do honor to the memory of the four dead men—Spies, Engel, Fischer and Parsons—who were hanged on Nov. 11, 1887, and Lingg, who took his own life the day before. Captain Blettner, Lieutenant Byrnes and some fifteen officers in plain clothes, were on hand and listened to the speeches of Lucy Parsons, August Lott, a smooth-faced German youth, and William Hildebrand, a fine-haired young man in a Prince Albert coat, with a carnation in his button hole. Gustaf Nelson presided. The speeches were tame and beyond reiterating the statement that anarchy still lives, the speakers had little to say.

ANARCHISTS ABROAD.

A Big Memorial Meeting Held in London.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The anarchists of London held a meeting at South Place institute, Morgan street, last night, to honor the memory of the so-called "Chicago martyrs." The hall was crowded with men of all nationalities who make up the anarchists and the extreme social Democratic party in this city. Red flags were hung over the doors and the pictures of Parsons and his companions were draped in mourning. Above the pictures, and on the wall behind the platform, were anarchist mottoes: "Workingmen Unite," "Remember Chicago," "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity," "Death to Tyrants," "Retribution to Our Oppressors" and many others in English, German and French.

Comrade Mowbray, the friend of the socialist poet, William Morris, was the first speaker. He said that the history of the anarchist movement was the history of the martyrdom of hundreds of noble men and women. Their blood had been shed ruthlessly by the classes in power, in order that the monopoly of the world's good things by these classes might not be imperiled. The property classes had applauded all the crimes committed in the name of the present order of society against the anarchists. The blood of the anarchist martyr cried out for revenge. The American government had shown itself brutal and despotic, despite all its pretensions, in its treatment of the Chicago anarchists. Anarchists in Great Britain need not think, however, that the British government was any better. It had shown itself in the last few months to be brutal and tyrannical as any other in the world.

This allusion to the cases against the Walsall anarchists and the commonwealth were received with tumultuous demonstrations of enthusiasm and shouted threats of vengeance.

Comrade Barker, who followed Mowbray, eulogized the French anarchists for their conscientiousness and fearlessness, and expressed regret that their courage was not to be found among the anarchists of every country. In closing, he hinted that the example set by the Chicago anarchists should be followed speedily by the anarchists of London.

Louise Michel was greeted with cheering when she came forward to speak. Her address was in French, and consequently only the foreigners in the audience applauded her incendiary words.

She talked disjointedly about the Chicago and Paris anarchists and exhorted her audience to imitate the examples of their heroes like Parsons and Ravachol.

The Chicago martyrs, she said, died for liberty, as did Ravachol, and if the anarchists of London would be equally brave and unselfish, they, too, might hope for such glorious deaths as these great lights of humanity had experienced.

The last Paris explosion, she said, was the result of police stupidity. The police thought to make more money by conjuring up another anarchist panic. Their clumsiness, however, caused an accident which they had not bargained for. If such accidents would only happen oftener, the police would be disgraced with their trade of death. If the police wished to continue finding infernal machines and destroying life and property with them, anarchists would see to it that their wishes were gratified.

The meeting ended amid the wildest enthusiasm. Men and women stood on the seats waving red flags and singing the "Carmagnole." Several police inspectors were present in citizens' clothes and one of them took short-hand notes of the speeches.

DEIBLER BOYCOTTED.

People Refuse to Live in the Same House with the Headman.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Deibler, the Paris executioner, is again having trouble with his landlord. About three months ago, when the dynamite panic was rife, he received notice to quit his apartments, as the landlord was afraid he might be made the object of the hatred of the anarchists. Deibler removed to Rue Michel Bizot, where, without informing his landlord of his position as executioner, he closed the terms for a lease of nine years.

As soon as his landlord, Clement by name, saw the signature on the lease he asked the tenant if he was any relation to the Deibler whose business is to attend to the guillotine. Deibler, who now had the signed lease in his pocket, confessed his identity. The landlord declared he would not accept him as a tenant, but he could not help himself. The result has been that all the other tenants of the house have left it. M. Clement has deplored Deibler to surrender the lease, but "Monsieur de Paris" is tired of leading the life of the Wandering Jew and declines. M. Clement has now discovered, or pretends he has, a flaw in the lease, which, he says, should have been signed by his mother, who is the real owner of the house, while he is only her guest. As Deibler refuses to see the matter in this light the case is going into court for a decision, with the chances that the executioner will win it.

THE STORY NOT TRUE.

There Will Be No War Between Chili, Peru and the Argentine Republic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—New York business houses interested in Chili, Peru and the Argentine Republic denounce the story that only a casus belli is wanted to array Peru and the Argentine Republic on one side and Chili on the other, in war, as without foundation.

Ex-Mayor Grace, who has large interests in these countries, says the story is simply ridiculous.

C. R. Flint said: "Our advices from that country do not mention anything touching on the subject, so it is safe to say there is no truth in the report."

Horribly Dealt With.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 12.—Henry Planz, recently appointed manager of the Fredrickburg brewery, was found hanging to a tree near Guadalupe bridge yesterday. His hands were tied behind his back, his feet tied together, and a handkerchief was over his mouth. The ground near the tree and for a distance of thirty feet showed evidence of a struggle. The affair is shrouded in mystery. A diamond ring was found on his finger and robbery is not thought to furnish the motive.

Collision Between Freight Trains.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 12.—There was a collision last night on the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas road near Babo, Miss., between two freight trains. The southbound train passed a meeting point ten minutes ahead of time and the collision followed. It is thought that Engineers Weaver and Heinrich were asleep when the engines came together. They were instantly killed and their bodies were brought here today.

BUDA PESTH, Nov. 12.—This city's cholera record for yesterday shows nine cases and three deaths. These figures are in strong contrast with the previous day's registration, which showed only two new cases and one death.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Business Report.

THE BOOM STILL CONTINUES.

The Presidential Election and a Severe Storm Over All the Northern States Slightly Interrupts Business, but Still the Volume of Trade Has Been Fairly Well Maintained.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The presidential election has interrupted business to some extent in all parts of the country during the past week, but by no means as much as usual, and at nearly all points the volume of trade has been fairly maintained and the unprecedented activity of industries has only been interrupted by the election holiday.

A severe storm throughout most of the northern states has embarrassed the movement of products and has checked some trades, but was very welcome to dealers in winter goods, who had found the unusually mild weather somewhat depressing to their business. Distribution of other products has been fully up to the average, and reports regarding collections are from almost all points quite satisfactory for the season.

The money markets have not been disturbed though working somewhat closer at several important points, and foreign necessities and the scarcity of commercial bills have caused some decline in foreign exchange. It is feared that Russia means and the failure to place the desired loan in Paris may cause further withdrawals of Russian balances in eastern Europe.

Trade at Boston has been fairly active for a broken week with woolen mills fully employed and the consumption of goods remarkably large. The wool market had anticipated an advance in price which did not occur, though sales amounted to 4,000,000 pounds. Cottons were firm and the mills are all busy. The boot and shoe trade is more quiet, leather steady but domestic hides active.

At Philadelphia most trades have been dull but iron is firmer and colder weather brings more demand for boots and shoes. Manufacturers of tobacco are pressed to their full capacity, the wall paper trade is large and trade in chemicals steady.

At Baltimore business is good, with increasing exports and southern collections better than was expected.

At Pittsburgh the production of iron increases, but also the demand, and the general tone is slightly better than before, with large orders for wrought pig. Glass, especially plate, is in large demand.

Trade at Cleveland is good, the demand for manufactured iron exceeding the capacity of mills, and money is working closer.

Business at Detroit is favorable, trade and manufacturers exceeding last year's, and at Cincinnati foundries are running full time. At Indianapolis the trade in drugs is excellent, exceeding last fall's. Receipts of products at Chicago were curtailed by the election and the storms, but wholesale trade was large; dealings in real estate show an increase of 30 per cent over last year, and the demand for money is heavy, the west drawing largely upon the Chicago supply.

Less than the usual interruption occurred at St. Louis, and trade is active in all seasonal lines. The railroads are crowded, offerings of grain being unusually large. Colder weather improves trade and collections at Milwaukee. Some improvement is seen at other western towns.

Prospects are more encouraging at Louisville, and business fairly active, but at Nashville trade is fair, and at Little Rock depressed by the small receipts of cotton. At Memphis the election interfered to some extent, and at New Orleans business is at a standstill on account of the great strike which is still unsettled, though cotton advanced in price, and the demand for cotton and sugar is good.

The government crop report indicates smaller yields than were expected, of wheat only 500,000,000 bushels, of corn only 1,600,000,000 bushels, and a decidedly small yield of cotton. Wheat is stronger than a week ago, with no great change in corn and oats, but moderate trading in either. Cotton has risen over half a cent, with sales of 485,000 bales on Thursday alone, exceeding by 60,000 bales the largest previous record for any day. Exports in October were 250,000,000 pounds, against 441,000,000 last year, and of oil 75,000,000 gallons, against 60,000,000 last year, the value of both being $30,862,303, against $43,177,432 last year.

The output of pig iron Nov. 1, was 171,082 tons weekly, an increase of 13,035 tons during the month of October. The production in the last half of 1892 seems to be not far from 4,185,000 tons, and stocks in October have been reduced 77,000 tons, which indicate a consumption larger than a year ago. Deliveries of rails for the year are small, probably not over 1,250,000 tons; bars are more active owing to car building, but plates are quiet and new orders for structural work are scarce.

Copper is in moderate demand at 11.75 cents, tin hardening at 20 7-8 and lead weight at 8.9 cents.

It has been the dullest October ever known for anthracite coal, and the Reading finds its terminals crowded, though working only three days in the week. The bituminous trade has been active and increasing. At Pittsburgh, the Monongahela strike ends with victory for the operators. Business in dry goods has been dull, but prospects are considered bright for the coming season and some bleached and colored cottons are stronger.

Wool was very active the first part of the week, with large sales and a tendency to advance. Many shoe factories will require their full capacity till Christmas to fill their orders, and shipments still largely exceed last year's. In spite of storms the movement of live stock at Chicago is larger than a year ago.

Stocks declined with some selling on Wednesday, but were strong with covering of shorts on Thursday, and the market continues in the hands of the traders. Money has been in better supply, declining from 6 to 5 1-2 per cent. But indications from Europe are less favorable to imports of gold.

The business failures during the past seven days number for the United States 184, Canada, 26, total 210, as compared with 238 last week, 187 the week previous to the last and 291 for the corresponding week of last year.

BATTLESHIP NO. 1.

She May Not Be Speedy, but Nothing Now Afloat Can Hurt Her.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The expert engineers of the bureau of steam engineering have just completed the revised specifications for the engines and boilers of the sea-going Battleship No. 1, which will be the largest vessel in the United States navy. Notwithstanding the great size of the vessel—she will displace 11,250 tons—she will not be a particularly speedy craft as vessels are now rated in these days of naval progress. But that is because she is to be heavily armored; not "protected," like the New York, in certain vital parts, but covered with heavy Harveyized steel plates capable of resisting the armor-piercing projectiles of great guns. The great weight of this armor has obliged the naval architects to reduce the weight allowance of the engines and boilers, and that meant a reduction in speed, particularly as a liberal allowance had to be made for the coal supply of the ocean-going man-of-war. So the new vessel will have engines of 11,000 horse power, which, running at 112 1-2 revolutions per minute, will give her a speed of sixteen knots per hour. They will be triple expansion engines, which means that the steam will be used three times in as many different cylinders before being condensed.

Three double ended main and two single ended auxiliary steel boilers will supply the steam at 160 pounds pressure to drive these engines and to make a sufficient draught the two smokestacks will be made one hundred feet in height. These tall stacks are not acceptable to lovers of beauty in marine designs, but they are very economical and enable the engineers to get along in ordinary cruising without the annoying "forced draught," which makes so much trouble. The details of the complicated machinery are so many that it requires a book of nine-fourth printed pages to describe all of them.

THE LOSSES.

Great Destruction wrought by the Fiery Element.

SLATINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—Henry Fulmer's school slate factory at this place was destroyed by fire yesterday. The building, which was 35 by 250 feet, was occupied by Henry Fulmer, E. L. Kraus and Joshua Schaeffer & Company.

Fulmer worked the raw material, Kraus manufactured noiseless school slates and Schaeffer & Company manufactured blackboards and mantels. The stock house was also consumed with a large amount of finished goods. Several of the female operators were carried from the building unconscious. The loss is now placed at $100,000 and is fully insured.

ROASTED PEANUTS.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 12.—A destructive fire broke out in the large peanut factory of the Merchants' and Farmers' company, spreading on the west to the Etna works, and jumping over the street to the Gwaltney Bunkly Peanut company, totally destroying these buildings. The loss will probably reach from $100,000 to $150,000. The entire fire departments of this city, Portsmouth and Berkley were in service and got the fire under control.

MAINE TOWN WIPED OUT.

CAMDEN, Me., Nov. 12.—As a result of yesterday's fire there is but one grocery store left in town. All drug stores, boot and shoe stores, millinery and dry goods stores, jewelry shops and furniture stores, the postoffice and telegraph office were wiped out. Twenty families are rendered homeless. The loss is estimated at from $350,000 to $500,000, about two-thirds covered by insurance.

Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Fire was discovered in the Wabash elevator on Thirty-fifth street yesterday afternoon, but it was extinguished before much damage had been done.

GERMANY'S MILITARY BILL.

It Has Stuck Fast on the Opposition of Bavaria.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The military bill has not yet passed the Bundesrat. It has stuck fast on the opposition of Bavaria and two or three other states, as they did not wish to commit themselves to it before knowing whence the imperial government expects to get the $16,000,000 annually necessary to realize its provisions. Until the government gives assurances of its intention as to beer and tobacco taxes, there is likely to be a deadlock.

This state of affairs embarrasses Chancellor Von Capri, as the government's financial plans have been kept purposely in the clouds in order that they might not complicate the battle of the parties round the technical portions of the military bill. It was generally supposed that the bill would be got through the Bundesrat without difficulty; hence the new complications have given courage to the Radicals and Liberals who are opposing it.

INTO THE LAKE.

ELYRIA, O., Nov. 12.—Word has been received that Captain Fred Woodruff, of this place, was blown off his boat on Lake Superior Monday night and lost. He was formerly a politician and was married last spring.

Twenty-Five Lost at Sea.

GLoucester, Mass., Nov. 12.—A dispatch from St. John's, N. F., states that as a result of the gale of Oct. 19, three vessels were lost or are missing.

Generally fair weather; colder by Sunday morning; winds becoming northwest.

CARRY the news to "Andy" Carnegie.

THANKSGIVING turkey will taste good this year.

It was a landslide, an avalanche, a cyclone, a tidal wave.

"STATE pride" didn't save Harrison in Indiana, and he now thinks of locating in Boston. Ta ta.

TAMMANY had things down to a fine point in New York State. They didn't miss the majority very much.

REPUBLICANS will know what a quiet campaign means hereafter. They'll know there's a Democratic cyclone sweeping down upon them.

DURING the late campaign Republicans complained that it was unusually quiet. It was simply the calm that preceded the Democratic cyclone.

A LOUISVILLE Republican took Harrison's defeat so much to heart that he closed out his business at public auction. An asylum is the proper place for such a person.

PUT Congressman W. P. C. Breckinridge down for a place in President Cleveland's official family. The "silver-tongued orator" is a good man to have around at all times, when one needs advice.

"KEEP your eye on Ohio," was the advice of Governor Campbell when the Chicago convention nominated Cleve and Steve. Republicans laughed at him, and a good many Democrats did, too. It's the Governor's turn now to laugh.

AFTER all, Mr. Harrison must be credited with more acumen and level-headedness than any of his Lieutenants, for he knew well what it would take to secure the Republican party in possession of the Presidency, hence his keen advocacy of the passage of the Force bill, so that they could have its use and benefit at the election just passed. With the tremendous power this would have given him in the Southern States, the election might have resulted very differently.

FOR THE GOOD OF ALL.

"If there are honest Republicans who really believe what their party journals and speakers have told them—who fear that Democratic success in the Nation threatens danger or disturbance to business—to them we say, your fears are idle," remarks the New York World.

The majority of the people of the United States, represented by the great Democratic majority, do not mean injury to themselves. This country is their country. Its business interests are their interests. Its prosperity is their prosperity. Its honor and welfare are their concern.

"This victory does not mean free trade. It does not mean the unsettling of industry nor the derangement of commerce. It does not mean disturbance of whatever is sound in finance.

"The President-elect is the very embodiment of conscientious caution. He is pre-eminently conservative. His administration will mean economy, reform, retrenchment in every branch of the Government.

"The victory does mean putting a stop to the riot of extravagance, profigacy and corruption. It means the end of the reign of Plutocracy. It means relief from the monstrous robbery of the masses by unjust and unnecessary taxation. It means a veto upon the looting of the Treasury and the hideous waste of hundreds, nay thousands, of millions of dollars in the course of a generation by unmerited pensions. It does mean lower and juster taxes and larger freedom of trade. It does mean good money, and good money only.

"Our party has triumphed under the happy union of a great issue and a great man. The Republic is stronger for this Democratic victory. The Republicans themselves will be more prosperous and in the end happier because of it. Government of the people is safe in the hands of a great majority of the people."

OFFICIAL FIGURES.

Result of the Recent Election in Mason County.

Of the Candidates Who Had Opposition, Mr. Paynter Leads.

Majorities.

The official canvass of the returns from the recent election was made yesterday by Judge Phister and County Clerk Pearce.

But slight change was made in the result as heretofore announced. The table subjoined gives the official figures, with the exception of the People's party and Prohibition vote.

Of the Democratic electors W. R. Kinney ran two ahead of the rest, polling 2,586, and R. T. Dearing one ahead, 2,585. Of the Republican electors Wm. A. Morrow polled 2,001, three more than the rest. Taking the highest vote on electors and Cleveland's majority is 585.

The People's party polled 45 votes in the county and the Prohibitionists 76. West Mayslick polled 10 Prohibition votes and Helena polled 12 votes for the People's party.

Dr. Yantis, People's party nominee for Congress, received 46 votes in the county, 1 in No. 5, 2 in No. 6, 1 in "Plutown," 1 in Dover, 6 in Minerva, 1 in Fern Leaf, 1 in Murphysville, 1 in East Mayslick, 3 in Washington, 14 in Helena, 2 in Lewisburg, 5 at Dieterich's, 6 in Plumville and 2 at Orangeburg.

Owens for Coroner comes next with a majority of 599, and a total vote of 2,596. On the local and district tickets Mr. Woodward comes third in the majority received, 577. Mr. Sallee fourth, 566, Mr. Hazelrigg fifth, 556, and Mr. Harbeson sixth, 345. Mr. Cochran leads the Republican ticket about 145 votes, while Mr. McCarty falls a little behind it.

A JOLLIFICATION.

Democrats Preparing to Celebrate the Glorious Victory.

It's settled, and the Democrats of Maysville and surrounding country will have a grand jollification, next Tuesday afternoon and night in celebration of the glorious victory recently won in county, State and Nation.

The meeting at the Council Chamber last night to arrange the preliminaries was largely attended. Major Chenoweth, President of the Maysville Single X Democratic Club, presided. Remarks in the way of suggestions were made by Messrs. W. LaRue Thomas, R. B. Lovel, Judge Wall, A. C. Respes and others.

It was decided to have a parade Tuesday afternoon commencing at 2:30 o'clock, the jollification to wind up with a big display of fire-works at night.

On motion the Chair appointed an Executive Committee consisting of Messrs. W. LaRue Thomas, R. B. Lovel, Judge Wall, H. Duke Watson, E. H. Martin, Robert L. Baldwin and W. W. Ball, who are to make all arrangements.

Judge Wall was chosen Grand Marshal and authorized to appoint assistant Marshals.

A cordial invitation was extended to all the Democratic clubs in the county and every other Democrat in Mason to attend and take part. The Democrats of the surrounding counties and of Aberdeen and vicinity were also cordially invited to participate.

The citizens of Maysville are asked to decorate and illuminate in honor of the occasion.

Soliciting committees reported about $200 had been subscribed to get up the parade. The Executive Committee wants $400, to prepare banners and devices and pay other expenses.

Hauke's band has been secured and there will be lots of music.

Let all unite and make the demonstration one of the biggest and grandest in the history of the city.

The party has won the grandest victory in the history of the country, and the jollification should be the grandest.

"Boom ta-ra, boom de-ay."

A MASON COUNTIAN KILLED.

Robert T. Tarleton, of Sardis, was killed in a railroad wreck last night near Greely, Kan.

Mr. John W. Boulden, of the First National Bank, received a telegram from Major J. T. Long this morning bringing news of the sad accident. No particulars were given.

Messrs. Nate Suit, Thomas Bratton and Elize Payton, all of Sardis, were also in the party. One of Mr. Payton's arms was injured, but he is all right otherwise. The rest escaped unharmed.

The telegram stated that Messrs. Suit and Bratton would start home to-day with the remains. Deceased was a son of Mr. John R. Tarleton, a prominent farmer living near Murphysville. He was a bachelor, forty-five years of age, and was a cousin of Mrs. John Rains and Mr. John W. Boulden, of this city.

The party went to Kansas a few days ago with Major Long, to look at some land with a view of purchasing.

The Favorite Melodrama.

The favorite melodrama, "The White Slave," comes to the Washington Opera House next Monday night. An unusually interesting and attractive play is "The White Slave." Such stage realism is seldom seen, and the scenery is all new and appropriate. The story is a faithful and graphic portrayal of the terrorism of slavery days. It is Bartley Campbell's best play, and there are no better melodramas now before the public. Notwithstanding the fact that it has had several seasons' wear, it is always welcome, and draws a large amount of money to the box office. This is due partly to the fact that it is a strong play, treating of a subject that is of interest to all people, and partly to the fact that it has never been played except by companies of more than ordinary merit. Tickets at Nelson's.

He was elected by a majority 20,000 greater than that ever given any Mayor of New York. Cincinnati Democrats will probably give him a serenade.

SAYS the Danville Democrat: "Miss Mary Keith Green invited a few friends to her home Monday evening to meet her visitors, Miss Gill, of Maysville, and Miss Condit, of Ashland. The entertainment was the 'Circulating Library,' and much merriment was derived from it. Each one was desired to wear an illustration of some book, which was kept a secret from the rest, and each engaged in guessing what the others represented. After the prizes had been awarded, the first to Mr. Hal Curran, and the booby to Mr. Will Shanks, refreshments were served, and the guests dispersed, much pleased with the novel entertainment."

THE Ladies. The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies use the may California liquid laxative Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, make it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

PORK PACKING AND PROVISIONS.

Small Movement of Hogs and Advanced Prices of Hogs and Products.

The winter season opens with a very light movement of hogs, in comparison with decidedly liberal marketing at corresponding time last year. The packing for the week in the West has been 225,000 hogs, against 385,000 last year. The total from November 1 is approximately 250,000, against 440,000 a year ago. Prices of hogs have been rather sharply advanced, the average of Western markets at the close being about 35c. per 100 pound higher than a week ago. The indications favor moderate arrivals in the near future, if the weather does not interfere with the fattening process.

The trade in general contemplates the situation with little of satisfaction, under the high prices of hogs, and the prevailing conviction that in due time the offerings will be liberal, with declining markets. The season has been particularly favorable for feeding operations, and the margin of profit in such disposition of corn is wider than usual. These conditions have favored delay in shipments, and also favor increased weights for hogs.

The current average price of hogs in Western markets is about $5.65, the better grades ranging up to $5.75a5.95. With the enlarged proportion of the animal turned into lard, under the present premium on this product, and January prices for meats, the manufacturer represents something under $5.50 for hogs, while the application of the January price of lard, with meats, does not admit of more than $5.10 for hogs in the usual way of reaching deductions.—Cincinnati Price Current November 10.

Chemically, the apple is composed of vegetable fiber, albumen, sugar, gum, chlorophyl, malic acid, gallic acid, lime and much water, says the Medical Age. ## Duckworth-Tootles.

NEW YORK, November 9.—At noon today in the Plaza Hotel, Miss Lillian Duckworth, of Cincinnati, was married to Mr. Milton Tootles, of St. Joe, Mo. The Rev. Dr. J. L. Campbell officiated. It was an extremely simple and private wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth, father and mother of the bride, and the groom's brother, John I. Tootles, were present. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. The presents of the groom to the bride were superb, costing an ordinary fortune. Mr. Tootles is the young St. Joe (Mo.) millionaire who wooed and won Miss Duckworth last season, and who accompanied the family abroad last summer. The bride's father, Mr. G. K. Duckworth, is the well known Cincinnati distiller.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Higginbotham, of this city. She has visited here here during the past year or so and made many warm friends.

IN MEMORIAM.

Thomas Jefferson Throop, who died at Logan, Ky., May 9, 1881, was educated at Bloomington, Ind., University and at West Point Military Academy. He was for many years a prominent member of the Maysville Bar, being associated in practice with his brother-in-law, the late Judge R. H. Stanton. He leaves two children—Prof. Thomas S. Throop, of Midway, Ky., and Miss Lillie S. Throop, of Logan, Utah. His remaining relatives in Maysville are Mrs. Judge A. Cole, Mr. Dr. A. G. Browning and Mr. Clarence L. Stanton.

Many a face has brightened at recall of Colonel Jeff Throop; many an eye will moisten at intelligence of his death in the stranger-land of far-away Utah. As we knew him, genial and warm-hearted, versatile and bright, generous and true, he was the peer of any—the light of his home and the ornament of the home circle. Few we know who are good and qualified in manner and to know how to address and love them. As a lawyer he stood at the front; as a Christian gentleman he was without reproach; as a citizen he was outshone by none. Green grew the virgin grass of the western plain over his manly breast, and lasting peace to his kindly soul.

THEY FEARED CHOLERA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The schooner Annie R. Bishop, Captain Rulon, which left New York Sept. 15, lumber laden, and bound to Para, Brazil, returned Friday morning. Captain Rulon says he arrived at Para Oct. 12, and was signalled not to enter the harbor. He anchored near Atalia lighthouse and waited five days. No attention was paid to his signals. He then concluded to sail up the river, but was met by a Brazilian man-of-war and ordered to return to New York. No opportunity was given to speak to any person, nor was he allowed to approach any nearer than to be able to distinguish signals. No boat or vessel was permitted to go the leeward of the schooner, because she came from New York, where cholera was supposed to exist. The captain proceeded with his vessel to this port. He had on board a clean bill of health from the Brazilian consul at New York which he was unable to present.

New Hungarian Premier.

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—Dr. A. Wekerle, Hungarian minister of finance, has accepted from the emperor the office of Hungarian premier made vacant by the resignation of Count Szapary. The selection is disappointing to the opposition which hoped to see Count Albert chosen. Wekerle, as finance minister, has been aloof from the disputes between the former premier and the opposition in regard to patriotic and religious questions, and was therefore looked upon by the emperor as more likely to pacify the contending factions than a more pronounced partisan would be.

Sensational Rumor About Cleveland.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—A dispatch was received in this city yesterday evening from Chicago saying that there was a rumor in that city to the effect that Grover Cleveland had dropped dead at his residence, 12 West Fifty-first street. When a reporter reached the house and stated his errand to the attendant, the latter said: "Why, Mr. Cleveland was never better in his life, and he is engaged at present with a caller." When the rumor was made known to Mr. Cleveland he laughed and said he thought he was a pretty lively corpse.

Will Yield to the Wish of the People.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—The queen regent has evidently concluded to pay more attention to the Columbus exhibition in accordance with the evident wish of the people. Premier Canovas Del Castillo gave a splendid reception to 1,600 foreign delegates and visitors. The King and Queen of Portugal were welcomed at the station by Queen Regent Christia and escorted to the royal palace by a grand cavalcade, in which the cabinet ministers, foreign diplomatic representatives, many Spanish grandes and 10,000 troops took part. The streets were thronged with spectators.

Meeting of the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The first cabinet meeting since the election was held Friday, all the members being present except Secretaries Elkins and Rusk. A general interchange of views took place on the election, and it is also understood that the president outlined in brief the salient points of his forthcoming annual message to congress. He has mapped out in a general way what it will contain, but has not yet begun the writing of it.

Very Rough Passage.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The steamship Canadian from Baltimore, Oct. 22, has arrived in the city with a story of the terrific weather at sea. Almost from the day that the Canadian lost sight of the American coast it was tossed about by a continuous storm. Waves swept over the decks and forty-eight cattle within eighty hours. The steamer made slow and laborious passage, and at times seemed threatened with destruction by the fury of the sea. There was no other disaster than the loss of the cattle.

Catholic Celebrations.

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—Archbishop Walsh, of this city, Thursday celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination and the golden jubilee of the Roman Catholic diocese of Toronto. There was a great gathering of clergy from all parts of the province. The archbishop was presented with addresses and a complete set of Episcopal vestments, including mitre and crozier. The celebration was continued Friday.

Kit Carson Guilty of Manslaughter.

DENVER, Nov. 12.—Kit Carson, a son of the scout, was found guilty yesterday at Las Animas, Colo., of manslaughter. On Dec. 10 he went to the house of his father-in-law, William Richards, whom he accused of having enticed his wife away from him. Carson shot several times at Richards, one of the shots killing Mrs. Richards. Richards was also seriously wounded, but recovered.

Hungarian Murdered.

BOISE CITY, Nov. 12.—A Hungarian named Zachrowski, was murdered yesterday by a countryman known as "Peter the Hun," for some supposed indignity. The deed was committed near Junction Crossing, on the Clearwater river. While his victim was asleep the murderer poured molten solder into his ear. The metal burned its way into the brain, causing instant death.

Anarchist Paper Seized.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram company from Berlin says that the police of that city have seized the first number of an anarchist paper entitled Arbeiter Zeitung. Five thousand copies which had been printed were confiscated. The publisher's house was searched and the plates from which the paper had been printed were destroyed.

Edison Wins.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The United States circuit court of appeals has confirmed the decree granted some time ago to the Edison Electric Light company against the United States Electric Light company, because of an infringement on patent rights.
